Brickfield Fund Finance Banker Comp Report

March 11, 2022 | Issue No. 166

Brickfield Fund Finance Recruitment is later this year producing an updated and extended edition of its Fund Finance Bankers Compensation Report (download 2019 edition here), which this time will also include other recruitment-related data and intelligence.

Founder Rory Smith said: “Our 2019 Compensation Report was very-well received, and we have recently had increasing calls from across the industry to produce another. We will soon be reaching out to the industry with our confidential survey to provide us with the data that will form the nucleus of the report, and we are hoping that even more take part this time in a collaborative project that aims to bring key data to hiring managers in this particularly competitive time in the talent search market.”

If you are interested in participating in Brickfield’s survey, please register your interest here at Brickfield’s website. Brickfield also invites senior fund finance banking professionals to take part in the consultation phase of the report.
