Cadwalader Fund Finance Contributes to Healthcare Workers

April 17, 2020 | Issue No. 73

Our associate Danyeale Chung this week led a give-back effort from our team to healthcare workers in both New York and Charlotte where family members of our teammates are working on the front lines helping virus patients. The personal sacrifice these medical professionals are making is astounding. Gift packages of food, coffee and snacks are being sent to the hospital staffs on the front lines. As a reward for meeting our fundraising target, Mike Mascia agreed to post this ridiculousness in this week's FFF. Mike Exotic!
